Still no hearing on annexation plans

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER. Staff Writer

A standing room only courtroom, full of people concerned about annexation proposals by the City of Bay St. Louis, was emptied quickly by Judge Jim Persons on Monday, when he told those in attendance that scheduling had been put off until a later, yet unannounced date. That date will

Big park party planned to roast Mayor Eddie Favre

THE SEA COAST ECHO Bay Saint Louis Mayor Eddie Favre was elected to serve as president of the Mississippi Municipal League and inaugurated this summer at the organizations annual convention. Mayor Favre follows in the footsteps of the late Mayor John Scafide, the only other local mayor elected to this prestigious position.

Mayor Favre's MML agenda has been crowded with strategic planning, planning the legislative agenda to benefit Mississippi cites and representing Mississippi and Bay Saint Louis at meetings of the National League of Cites and other municipal organizations throughout the country. He is also a with director Mississippi Municipal Service Company that handles workman's compensation and liability insurance for municipal workers.

To applaud this accomplishment that brings honor to the City of Bay Saint Louis a party will be hosted to recognize Mayor Eddie Favre. However, party organizers have planned a party with a twist. Mayor's from throughout Mississippi have been invited to "Roast the Mayor".

"Eddie deserves to be recognized, but a formal banquet is not quite his style," said Councilman Farve, one of the party organizers. "We want to have some fun and this is a great venue. Mayor who work with him will do the roasting and our local organizations will be the bearers of those great gag gifts that will represent Eddie's personality and

Bay St. Louis' Pat Walker-Fields honored as an 'Artist of the South'

BY JAN DENSMORE

Congratulations are due to artist, Pat Walker-Fields, who has been honored by the national professional organization. Oil Painters of America, by being inducted into the society. Acceptance is based upon the excellence of the work of the artist, and membership is determined by committee after review of submitted slides.

The society, which is comprised of two thousand members nationwide was formed to support traditional oil painting masters whose style of painting was no longer favored or fairly considered by art critics, galleries and museums ever seeking new tendencies in art in America.

Pat Walker-Fields has won many awards as a Southern Representational artist. She has been selected three times by the AMA as "Mississippi's Favorite Artist." Her reputation has grown as a gifted oil painter whose works manipulate elements of light and dark, known as "chiaroscuro": to imbue mystery and emotion in still life, portraits and landscapes. "I want to push the work as far as it can go within the boundaries of what the eye recognizes as real and what the heart feels as deep and compelling." The emotional brushwork in her paintings is evidence that this artist holds nothing back. A trip to Turning Leaf, where Pat has her studio, is not only a surprise but food for the soul and a feast for the eyes which speaks louder than any words might convey.

Oil Painters of America was founded by Shirl Smithson in order to voice renewed understanding and avant-garde art movement in America. Founders of Oil Painters of America were distressed to learn that representational oil painting was rarely being taught in colleges and universities. The time-honored techniques developed by Dutch Masters, such Rembrandt or art educators, cast the craft and vision of a Michelangelo aside history. Furthermore, America's great art museums no longer presented the works of contemporary great masters of this genre. It was as if such artists were invisible to the mainstream of contemporary art.

Walker-Fields, Mississippi native, was born in Tippah County. At an early age her mother, Lola Wiggs Walker, a poet of some renown in her own right, introduced Pat to the world of art. Pat spent her early years in the small Delta community of Rolling Fork, MS. where her father, Martin E. Walker, farmed. "Farmer's Being Daughter," Samily, faith, dry soul with a facility that Representational art seeks teachers, and community blessed her with an attitude that she could do anything, has been eclipsed by an offering 4-10 day workshops. Although the seed was planted in Pat's spirit 8 years earlier, she believes it would have never materialized without the glorious workings of the True Master Artist. The blessing came through a patron of the arts, who only wants to be known as "Hedy." Pat comments, "Without this blessing, the dream I envisioned, would have just been a dream! After attending many workshops, Walker-Fields' often replied to her artist friends, "Why can't we have workshops these Mississippi? What does New Mexico, Texas and Arizona have that Mississippi doesn't? How could any artist not be enchanted by the beauty of Mississippi?" That is how Turning Leaf began.

Until Turning Leaf, the beginner or advanced artist that desired to take his or her art to the next level had to travel great distances to study with the living Masters of our time. The support we receive from artists, aspiring artists, businesses, community, our State, and surrounding regions' will help in the advancement of our Mission. We at TURN-ING LEAF believe that the influence of good business, strong community groups, and leaders that support the arts is the infrastructure that nourishes the development of our great community. It is our hope that through providing an opportunity for artists to study with living Master Artists, we can build a strong connection to support the artisans of today for our future. Art is the way we characterize our community through visual beauty that reflects our experiences, both past and present. We encourage you to support the Arts. Mississippi is a unique and extraordinary place to live. If we do not support the artists in our community, then they stand in danger of being lost. We have an outstanding selection of Master scheduled Artists Turning Leaf and we appreciate your support."

Walker-Fields' artwork may be seen in Mississippi at Williams Gallery in Gulfport, MS, and Southern Breeze Gallery, Highland Village, Jackson, MS. Cruisers like Bay's welcome, hospitality

Local schools host, play football games this friday nce again I kept Cruisin' that they prefer Bay St. Louis' welcome over other cities along the coast.

Saturday afternoon, as things were beginning to wind down for 2003 Cruisin', I was hearing great comments about the welcome folks from across the country receive from everyone in the Bay St. Louis area.

I have also had several Bay St. Louis merchants comment about how nice the visitors were too.

In talking to Bay Police Chief Frank McNeil, I was also told there were very few minor problems. There were a few locals had a problem reaching their residences. " As for the visitors, they were a very orderly group, according to Chief Natchez. McNeil.

Bay St. Louis Fire Fighters handled the emergencies and I think they had one person whose leg touched a hot exhaust pipe they treated with some ointment.

Bay High is having a good season with a 5-2 record, 2-1 in conference play, while St. Stanislaus is 3-4, and 2-0 in conference play.

The Tigers last Friday shutout the state 2002 champs D'iberville.

Republicans find votes in urban Miss.

lthough Mississippi is still the most rurally-populated state in the South, its richest crop of votes, as Republicans doubt have discovered, is found in the urban areas.

And on Nov. 4, Mississippi Mississippi's GOP very likely will be counting on harvesting a bumper crop of votes from the metro areas to elect Haley

Barbour governor and four down-ballot candidates for state office. But, to the surprise of many, incumbent Democratic Gov. Ronnie

Musgrove managed to win in 1999 despite an urban vote tide running against The question this year is whether or not he can harenough votes outside the urban areas to pull it off again.

Republicans likely need no better proof that the urban vote is the key to statewide success than the results of the 2000 presidential election. George W. Bush swept all four of the state's Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSAs) by a combined 87,494 votes and amassed enough votes in the larger counties to easily win over Democrat Al Gore in 2000.

Mississippi's 17 most populous counties, according to an analysis by the Center for the Study of the American South at the University of North Carolina handed Bush 52.7 percent of the statewide vote--a margin of 121,251 votes.

UNC center's The analysis underscores both the state GOP's potency in the metro counties and also the weight those counties represent in the state's total vote.

In contrast with conventional wisdom that voter turnout is heavier in rural counties than urban counties, the UNC analysis indicates that in proportion to urban vs. rural population, there was a significantly heavier voter turnout in the metro areas than in the rural areas.

Illustrative of that point, the North Carolina center's data shows that the three-county Biloxi metropolitan area, while containing only 6.4 percent of the state's population, provided 11.3 percent of the statewide vote.

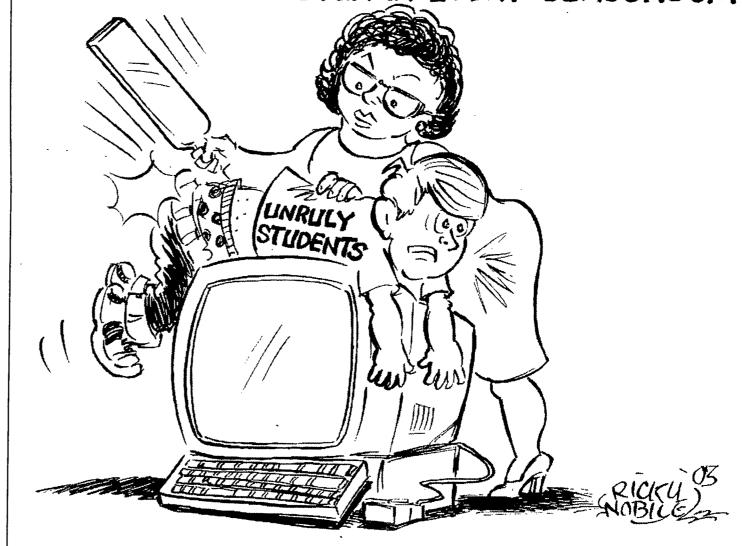

Similarly, Jackson MSA--comprised of Hinds, (the only metro county Bush lost), Madison and Rankin counties-with 5.9 percent of the population, accounted for 16.1 percent of the total vote.

Evidently Republican gubernatorial candidate Haley Barbour went to school on Bush's loss of Hinds County in 2000. Recently Barbour has tailored special campaign pitches at fixing the city of Jackson's financial problems and also helping Hinds County tackle a backlog of criminal cases.

It's somewhat ironic that Barbour has shown concern about the fiscal problems of Jackson while his own hometown of Yazoo City is in relatively worse financial straits due to a sharp downturn of revenues, causing layoffs of Shipyards and defense contractors are doing their job. Ask the workers at Northrop Grumman Ingalls in Pascagoula or V.T. Halter and they will tell you new kinds of vessels are on the drawing boards that are technologically far beyond anything built before and much more advanced than anything our rivals can muster. However, ship blueprints can't fight terrorists, interdict drugs or haul goods. It takes investment to turn these next-generation ideas into reality, into ships that can defend America's interests and carry our cargo well into the 21st Century.

This doesn't just apply to U.S. Navy ships. It's also time we invest in the U.S. Coast Guard and our merchant fleet. Right now our Coast Guard cutter fleet is among the world's oldest when compared to the navies of other industrial-Yet, our ized countries. Coast Guard is being asked to do more and more to protect our borders from drug smugglers and terrorists.

The Coast Guard has embarked on what's called the "Deepwater Program" an initiative that will put to sea an entirely new class of Coast Guard cutter.

Ingalls, V.T. Halter and Bollinger are already hard ducing the new and renovated cutters, but, unfortunately, just like many of the Navy's shipbuilding pro-"Deepwater" grams, remains underfunded.

To correct that under funding, I have joined other Senators in adding $202 million to the Deepwater Program for Fiscal Year 2004, and in asking the Administration to properly fund the program next year. We're pressing for continuation of federal programs and tax incentives that encourage the use of U.S.-built and U.S.-flagged ships for our merchant shipping and even for recreational vessels like cruise ships.

We haven't successfully built a cruise ship in America since the late 1950s, but America must encourage its shipbuilding industry to engage in the production of all kinds of ships - not just military, but commercial and civilian ships, too. Shipyards cannot simply stop production, lay people off, and then expect to resume operation later with the same capacity, the same good prices for taxpayers, and the same quality, high-tech product. Indeed, we must feed our shipbuilding industry regardless of whether we are at war or peace.

With our nation's carrier power so often heralded by the media and entertainment industry, I'm afraid we are forgetting about some very worrisome vulnerabilities in our maritime strength. America is at a crossroads. We must decide whether we intend to remain a maritime nation gradually fade. shipbuilding Increased investment across the board, in both military and commercial shipbuilding, is necessary if we are to maintain our maritime capability and our national security. Though many of you may never set foot on a ship, they protect us all and bring us the goods we need. Without a strong commitment to building ships, America risks losing the ships that have helped make us a strong, secure world power.

Like Ronald Reagan and John Stennis, I'm going to encourage and support America's shipbuilding industry which employs tens of thousands of Mississippians.

In the same vein we should fully respect and fully fund the Navy, the Coast Guard and the commercial fleet that uses American-built vessels to protect and promote America's people.

It's instructive to review the comprehensive election analysis made by the John C. Stennis Institute of Government at Mississippi State University based on the 1999 governor's results.

While Musgrove didn't run as the "country boy" candidate versus the city boy candidate, it's evident that the string of small and medium-sized counties Musgrove won tipped the outcome in his favor. Sixteen counties that had gone Republican in the 1995 governor's race that was won by Kirk Fordice--Greene, Grenada, Itawamba, Jasper, Lafayette, Lee, Monroe, Montgomery, Prentiss, Tate, Tippah, Tishomingo, Union, Wayne, Winston and Yazoo--were won Musgrove in 1999.

As will be remembered, under Mississippi's archaic 1890 election provision, although Musgrove won the popular vote, remarkably both he and Parker had an equal number (61) of socalled "electoral" votes based on each county's representation Mississippi House.

· And as Mississippians watched in bafflement; the 122-member Mississippi House sat as an "electoral college" on January 4, 2000 to elect the state's governor and Musgrove won, 86-36.

Afterwards, many lawmakers railed about removing the obscure electoral provision from the 1890 state constitution, nothing was ever done.

So its hoary presence still hangs over the state's election system as once more a governor is to be elected.

Who knows how this election is going to play out and whether or not we are in for a replay of the 1999 "electoral college" comedy?

The larger question in this gubernatorial election should be: Will our next governor help alleviate our wide-spread rural poverty, and bring economic and revenue relief to our suffering small towns such as Yazoo City?

What's at stake is a much larger order than most voters in this state are likely to comprehend. Certainly they are getting little enlightenment from the campaign rhetoric they've been hear-

Flood insurance premiums cut by 20 percent in Pass

City's participation in national floodplain management program responsible for savings

BY SHANNON JENKINS Staff Writer

lood insurance holders in Pass Christian will see a 20 percent reduction in their premiums thanks to the city's efforts in its floodplain management program.

As a participating community with the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) for the last 30 years, the city acheived the savings through the program's Community Rating System

"The NFIP offers reasonably priced flood insurance in communities that comply with minimum standards for floodplain management," said Peggy Johnson, the city's floodplain manager, in a statement to the Sea Coast Echo. "The CRS recognizes community efforts beyond the minimum standards by offering premium deductions in flood insurance policies."

Johnson said the objectives of the CRS program are to reduce flood losses, facilitate accurate insurance rating and promote the awareness of flood insurance.

The benefits, she said, include reduced flood insurance rates, enhanced public safety, reduction in damage to property and public infrastructure, avoidance of economic disruption and losses, reduction from human suffering and protection of the environment.

In 1993, Johnson said the city recognized the need and benefits afforded by becoming a part of the CRS program, under the direc-Code tion of the Enforcement officer and community development officer at that time - Eddie Bigelow.

"In order to join the program, a community would have adopted and would be enforcing building codes, as well participating in the NFIP," Johnson said.

Due to the number of repetitive loss properties that are located in Pass Christian, Johnson said the city's Flood Protection and Hazard Mitigation Plan was prepared by Gulf Planning Regional Commission (GRPC), Sue Chamberlain and Bigelow. It was then adopted by the governing authorities of the city of Pass Christian.

The city entered the CRS program with a rating of Class 9 effective March

"Through additional outreach activities and meeting objectives of other recognized objectives, Pass Christian, one year later, filed a modification application and the city was awarded a status of Class 8," said Johnson, who assumed Bigelow's duties in

Johnson said several activities were modified and other activities and projects, in concert with meeting the objectives of the CRS program, were added over the years, which eventually facilitated the city being awarded recognition as a Class 6.

This classification led to the 20 percent savings in flood insurance premiums.

"The city continues to take a pro-active approach and readily embraces any and all progressive methods and new technology that will even further minimize damage from floods and hurricanes to property," Johnson said.

The Class 6, Johnson said, was achieved due to collaborative efforts and support of the mayor and Board of Aldermen, city departments, civil defense, Harrison County Civil Defense, city engineer, city attorney, business owners and residents. "The award of a class 6 means that significant progress has been accomplished in the city's floodplain management program," Johnson said. "Property owners who hold flood insurance policies will realize a premium reduction of 20 percent. Nevertheless, the monetary savings is secondary to the more important issue that lives will be better protected due to a more increased awareness, and flood/hurricane damage to homes and businesses will be minimized due to enforcement of restrictive ordinance regulations, building codes, and mitigation efforts."

Pass Christian, the city of Waveland and Harrison County will be awarded improved standings from the CRS program at a conference of Mississippi's floodplain managers at Casino Magic in Bay St. Louis on Thursday.

Hancock losing 'Voice of the Hawks'

BY DWAYNE BREMER Contributing Writer

Friday night's game the Hancock between Hawks and the North West Rankin Cougars was a bitter loss on the field for the Hawks, but in the press box the loss will be felt for a lot longer.

The fans who attended the game heard the end of an era, as longtime announcer Renee Baum called his last game for the Hawks.

Baum is leaving the booth after 20 years to take a job in Atlanta Baum is a graduate of Hancock North Central class of 1980. He played four years of football. and has been the "Voice of the Hawks," since shortly after his graduation.

"It's really bitter sweet, I have a great job opportunity in Atlanta, I'm thankful for all of the great people I've met and I'm going to miss everyone," Baum stated.

Baum explained how he got the job of announcing," I was watching practice, and coach Irving Favre was worried because he did not have anyone to announce the game that Friday. I said I could do it, so I fumbled my way through it, and I've been here ever since," Baum stated. Fans who have attended Hawks games over the years have come to know Baum's signature call. When the Hawks make a first down, Baum will get excited and say something that usually sounds like this, "He picks up sixteen yards and a HAWK FIRST-DOWN!".

"It happened by mistake one game, after we made a big play, I just yelled it out, and everyone loved it, so I just kept doing it," Baum said.

Before the game Friday night Baum was presented with a plaque for his services by Hawk head coach Rocky Gaudin.

"We are going to miss Renee, he has been a real asset to the program, and he is always welcome back if he chooses," Gaudin said.

Taking Baum's place as the Voice of the Hawks will be longtime assistant Sonny Schwartz. Schwartz is looking forward to the challenge, but will also miss his friend. " Renee has been a true Hawk, his many years is service to the school has meant a lot to all of us. I'm looking forward to carrying on the tradition.

Schwartz has promised to contiue the first down call.

Taking Schwartz spot as the new spotter and assistant will be myself Dwayne Bremer.

"Renee from all of the Hawk fans past and present, thank you for everything that you have done, and good luck, you will be missed."

Waveland community helps reduce the risk of stroke

THE SEA COAST ECHO Residents living in and around the Waveland, Miss., community can be screened to reduce their risk of having a stroke. Life Line Screening will be at the Gulfside Assembly United Methodist Conference & Retreat Center on October 22. The site is located at 950 S, Beach Blvd. in Waveland. Appointments will begin at 9 a.m.

A stroke, also known as a "brain attack", is ranked as the third leading killer in the world, and the second among women. Through preventive screenings, the risk of having a stroke can be greatly reduced.

Screenings are fast, painless and low cost. They involve the use of ultrasound technology, and scan for potential health problems related to: blocked arteries which can lead to a stroke, aortic aneurysms which can lead to a ruptured aorta, and hardening of the arteries in the legs, which are a strong predictor of heart disease. Also offered for men and women, is a bone density screening to assess their risk for osteoporosis. "Words are inadequate to express my gratitude to Life Line Screening. I will always be indebted to your company for your assistance in prolonging my life." Henry C. Atchinson, Orrville, Ala.

Each screening requires ten minutes or less to complete. A complete vascular screening package, including the Stroke/Carotid Artery, Abdominal Aortic Aneurysm and Ankle Brachial Index (hardening of the arteries) screenings is $99. Sign-up for a complete vascular package; include the osteoporosis screening and pay only $125.

Life Line Screening was established in 1993, and has since become the nation's leading provider of vascular screenings. Over 45 ultrasound teams are on stail to travel to your local community, bringing the screenings to you. These non-invasive, inexpensive and painless, ultrasound tests help people

Today, pretty and ladylike are synonymous with hip and cool

BY SAMANTHA CRITCHELL

Associated Press Writer runge is gone and even boho is behind us, thankfully, says designer Carolina Herrera.

Instead, both for this season and the upcoming spring, pretty and ladylike clothes are in fashion.

`I like to see women look polished. My collections have always been polished. I didn't go with the minimalist or grunge trends. I want to make women look more beautiful," says

In fact, she adds, it's much easier to look neat and feminine than to be a `Mod Squader," a bohemian or a rock 'n' roll rebel _ all recent trends.

Herrera practices what she preaches: She wore a crisp white shirt, classic black pants and pearl earrings to direct her most recent runway show. "I call it `effortless chic,'" she says.

`To put on a blouse and a pair of trousers _ it's so easy in the morning. And you can mix and match. You can wear a lovely chiffon top with jeans, or you can wear jeans with a tailored shirt," she says.

Herrera's fall line, and others done at all price points in the same spirit, features a lot of satin, bows, trim-waist jackets and knee-length skirts. Looking ahead, gentle ruffles and soft fabrics in easy, breezy fabrics will be offered in the spring.

`There's the acceptance by women of all colors, shapes and sizes that they can be pretty and feminine, and they adapt the look to work for them. Other `looks' have a very specific image that not everyone can fit into," says Tom Julian, a fashion trend analyst for Fallon Worldwide.

He adds: "There also is an inner beauty and an outer confidence that comes with wearing pretty clothes."

Julian predicts skirts will be the biggest sellers because there is such a variety _ pleated, scalloped hems, handkerchief bottoms that all fall into the category. Plus, he notes, skirts are pretty new to the closet because they hadn't been very popular for a few years.

For a while, ladylike clothes were at risk of being called ``old-fashioned," but now that younger women _ and especially Hollywood stars _ are embracing the look, pretty and polished is very modern.

Renee Zellweger, for instance, wore an all-white satin gown with a fishtail train by Herrera to the Council of Fashion Designers of America awards that she accessorized with long satin gloves.

'Go into your grandmother's closet and pull out the beaded bags, the shawls," says Andre Leon Talley, Vogue's editor at · large.

He notes how Gwyneth Paltrow wore opera-length gloves with tweed coat for a casual, daytime look during a recent photo shoot for the magazine. "It's a way of reinventing a classic. It says you can wear it in a sporty way. She looks like an English girl who found her mother's gloves in a drawer," Talley observes.

It's exciting to see something as dignified as long gloves _ not mittens that keep you warm during a snowstorm _ as the touch that makes an outfit stylish, he says.

A pair of Prada gloves in crocodile or alligator just conveys luxury. It show you're paying attention to your wardrobe, and it puts the exclamation point on glamour," Talley says. After Sept. 11, 2001, many would-be shoppers felt guilty about going into stores and splurging on themselves, so instead they focused on home and cocooning, he says, but the pendulum has swung again, ushering in an era of optimism and elegance.

Talley singles out the most recent collections by Herrera and Ralph Lauren as great examples of "soft, not forced, sophistication."

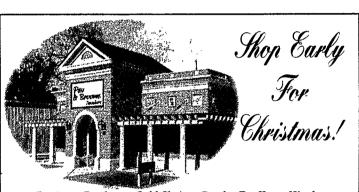

But ladylike garments don't have to come from top designers, feminine accessories such as waistenhancing belts, delicate handbags, pillbox or straw hats, and bows can come from vintage shops or mall stores.

The return to "pretty" might be part of a retail strategy, Talley says, since it's probably easier to sell beautiful colors, soft fabrics and clothes that generally make women feel good than harsher or minimal looks.

Seeing a pretty woman is inspiring. No, it's life enhancing!" he says.

From the legend of Dorian Gray --- who sold his soul to the devil to stay young --- to contemporary eyebrow plucking, waxing and threading — men and women have gone to great lengths to look good over the years. Such is the focus of "Vanity: The Art of Looking Good" (Red Rock Press) by Linda Abrams. It covers the customs that have dictated fashion in makeup, hair, body and clothing. With fashion timelines, tidbits about men in high heels or women in spikes, this witty book explores vain traditions, both new and old. Whether it is the impulse to fit in or even show off, this book explores an expression of looking good and creating human art.

Stella McCartney looks to faded tones for light, airy spring/summer collection

BY JAMEY KEATEN Associated Press Writer tella McCartney has an answer for an uneasy world: Go light.

Presenting her springsummer ready-to-wear collection Sunday, the British designer dazzled fans with cool, airy styles of chiffon or cotton voile in soothing, dulled-down colors.

The wispy dresses in earthy greens were long off the hip, creating a flapping, flowing movement with the models' every step. A ballet dancer would feel at home in these outfits.

After her show in an ornate hall of the Paris Stock Exchange, McCartney said she had imagined rummaging through an old stockpile of fabrics to put together a soft-toned collection.

"I always had this fantasy of having a great, great grandmother and discoverting her chest of old fabrics.' she said. ``Once they were really bright, vibrant colors that after 40 years were dulled down."

McCartney said she wanted to strike a light

'We're coming out of a very difficult moment as human beings, reacting to a lot of world turmoil," she said. "We want to breathe in air _ it's time for release and to move on.'

One unabashed fan said McCartney is coming more into her own.

`It was fabulous. She goes from strength to strength" said Paul McCartney, the designer's father, who was on hand with his very pregnant wife, Heather. "It's getting better all the time.

One slinky offering was a see-through, triangle design silk blouse over a rough-cut, pleated mustard yellow skirt. Belly buttons disappeared underneath high-waisted swimsuits.

Shoes were often block heels in a discrete nude color, to give the impression that the models "were just floating along the runway," the designer said.

Chiffon and cotton voiles were often layered, handbags were laden with metal trim accents and colored sunglasses had designs of butterflies in motion.

But McCartney only gave a gentle nod to the lepidopteran motif. Across town, Valentino went heavier on the butterfly theme, using it on shoulder broaches, prints, and even sandals. The Italian designer's approach also included light, lacy themes, but was generally more sober, including gowns or dresses that would wear equally well at work or on a night in town.

Valentino has elegance," said Naomi Campbell, who graced the catwalk in outfits including a turquoise evening gown covered with shell pendants. His styles `feel like the old Hollywood, like in Elizabeth Taylor movies," she said.

Big silver sequin bowls adorned navy stretch tops. Embroidered aprons were clever, and there was an extra-loud embroidered, flower-printed shirt and matching skirt.

At the Rodin Museum, Yves Saint Laurent gave this season its biggest dose of black.

Bouffant-haired models pranced out in sizzling black embroidered evening gowns, trench coats in black with gold buttons, baggy black pants or a black velours bathrobe over a bathing suit.

Designer Tom Ford showed a penchant for low cuts, giving the fashion house's legendary women's tuxedo a white vest that opened up from the navel. Heels seemed almost invariably stilettos, many in black and white with crystal-looking insets.

Among the more colorful pieces were a scaly dress in golden paillettes, and a comfortable, close-fitting dress in a sharp tangerine tone.

Louis Vuitton certainly provided a summertime feel by setting its show in a searing glass hallway that became scorchingly hot. But as the high-energy show began, black curtains came down, and a light show with the famed company logo darted over the faces in the crowd.

Designer Marc Jacobs paraded out a mishmash of styles: Shimmering yellow lame overcoats that fell to mid-thigh, baggy blue sailor pants and a beigecolored jersey bathing suit.

Colorful embroidery was in full display, at times hinting of ancient Egypt. Nifty leather-strap skirts looked like they had been through a paper shredder.

"It was a little bit of the jovial sailor, a little bit of goddess or Cleopatra _ whatever, `` Jacobs said. This was a ``younger, sexier" feel than the ``architectural, sturdy" flavor of a

There were glimmering, shiny flat sandals and block heels covered with a sort of tortoise shell design.

This was indeed Vuitton: handbags were a must, and every model carried one.

There's one bag for every look," Jacobs told LVMH Louis Vuitton Moet Hennessy head Bernard Arnault after the show.

Tigers & Rocks set to clash; Henderson, Adams record big games

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II Staff Writer

The Division 8 Class 4A standings just got muddier with the results from last Friday night's games. And, it had nothing to do with the amount of rainfall that the Coast absorbed. The Pass Christian Pirates pulled off a 16-10 win over the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws while the Bay High Tigers blanked the defending state D'Iberville champion Warriors 30-0. The 5A Hancock Hawks dropped a tough game to the Northwest Rankin Cougars 28-6 in Kiln.

The Pirates (3-4, 2-2) held their homecoming last Friday against the Rocks (3-4, 2-1) amidst the mud and slop caused by the rainfall. The Pirates forced the Rocks into overtime where they blocked a Rock field goal attempt and Jared Bowswer scored from 5 yards out for the win.

The two teams battled to a 0-0 score at halftime in a game that saw 10 balls hit the ground between the two The Rocks also teams. threw three interceptions. In the second half, SSC scored first when Zack Elkins blocked a Pirate punt and Jordan Ellis forced a safety as the Pirates recovered the ball in their endzone.

The Pirates kept the score at 2-0 when they held SSC out of the endzone on the ensuing possession. From there, the Pirates marched down the field and scored on Tony Henderson's 7-yard run. Later, a Jonathan Willis 26-yard field goal made the score 10-

The Rocks pushed the ball down to the 11-yardline where Tim Kulikowski hooked up with Stefan Sofianos for a 11-yard score. Kulikowski connected with Brock Kelly for a two-point conversion setting the stage for the overtime period.

After three incomplete passes, the Rocks lined up for the field goal and Ledeal Johnson broke through for the block setting up the Pirates' winning score.

Ledeal Johnson recorded 10 total tackles in the game for the Pirates while teammate Tony Henderson led the Pirate atack with 83 yards rushing on 16 carries.

The Rocks were led by JC Brignone on defense with 10 total tackles and Matt Hoda on offense with 42 yards on 9 carries.

The Pirates hit the road this week for another division battle in Wade-Hurley Vancleave 10-6 last week. Kickoff in Wade-Hurley is set for 7:30pm.

SSC will battle the Bay

High Tigers (5-2, 2-1) this week in the annual game for the Crab Trap Trophy. The rivalry series dates back to 1948 when the first game was played in front of an estimated 2,000 fans. The Rocks won that game 45-0. The two teams did not play again until 1968 at the request of Brother Lee Barker, S.C., principal of St. Stanislaus, and Bay-Waveland School District Superintendent J. D. McCullough.

The series has been an even one with SSC owning a 19-17 record. The largest margin of victory for SSC was in 1948 while Bay High defeated the Rocks 52-0 in 1986. The biggest upset in the series came in 1987 when the Tigers were ranked #9 in the state and Rocks invaded McCullough Stadium for a 22-18 win. In that game, SSC's Cedric Smith threw for a then-school record 272 yards and Freddie Wirstrom caught 9 passes for 192 yards. That win marked the

against the East Central victory in the series came in Hornets who lost to 1973 when Bay High pulled off a 7-6 win. David Depreo scored on a 60-yard interception return with :03 left in the first half. The PAT missed leaving the Rocks ahead 6-0. In the second half, the Tigers' David Tillman returned an interception 10 yards for a score and Ben Piazza nailed the PAT for the difference.

The game promises to be a good one. Both teams are sitting in good position in the division standings each with a 2-1 record. The Tigers feature an all-out passing game while the Rocks favor a power running game.

This past Friday, the Tigers shutout the Warriors 30-0 largely behind their running game. It was also the Tigers' first shutout in over five seasons. The Tigers tallied 259 yards rushing in the game. Kyle Moran led the way with 86 vards on 22 carries followed by Antonio Hawkins with 74 yards on 9 carries.

The Tigers got on the board with a 20-yard strike from Zack Ferry to Lorenzo Lewis. Ferry added another score on a 72-yard run for a 13-0 Bay High lead. Kyle Moran got into the action The smallest margin of with a 37-yard field goal followed by another Ferry to Lewis connection for 15 yards. The final score was a Moran 4-yard run which was set up by Hawkins 28yard romp. Jimmy Blount led the Tigers' defense with 9 tackles and 4 quarterback sacks. PK Keyes also added 9 tackles with a forced fumble and fumble recovery. Game time between the Rocks and the Tigers is set for 7:30pm. Get there early as it might turn out to be SRO!

The Hancock Hawks (3-4, 0-3) took one on the chin for their third straight division loss 24-6 to the #15-ranked Northwest Rankin Cougars. The Hawks committed seven turnovers in the game with three of them resulting in 21 points for the Cougars.

The Cougars jumped out to a 10-0 lead following a crucial turnover late in the first quarter. However, the Hawks came right back with a scoring drive of their own. Hawk quarterback Robert Domke hooked up with David Brown with a 56-yard pass play before Jarrod Barrios found the endzone from 9 yards out to make the halftime score 10-6. The Cougars would add two more scores in the second off Hawk turnovers.

Gerald Adams led a valiant Hawk defensive attack with 12 tackles. Matt Rayborn, Barrios, and Donald Hains each added 9 tackles in the loss.

This week the Hawks will travel to Natchez to take on the winless Bulldogs in a division contest. Hawks play in perhaps the toughest Class 5A division with three of their league teams in the Mississippi Top 20 - Oak Grove (#3), (#7),Picayune and Northwest Rankin (#15). Game time in Natchez is slated for 7:30pm.

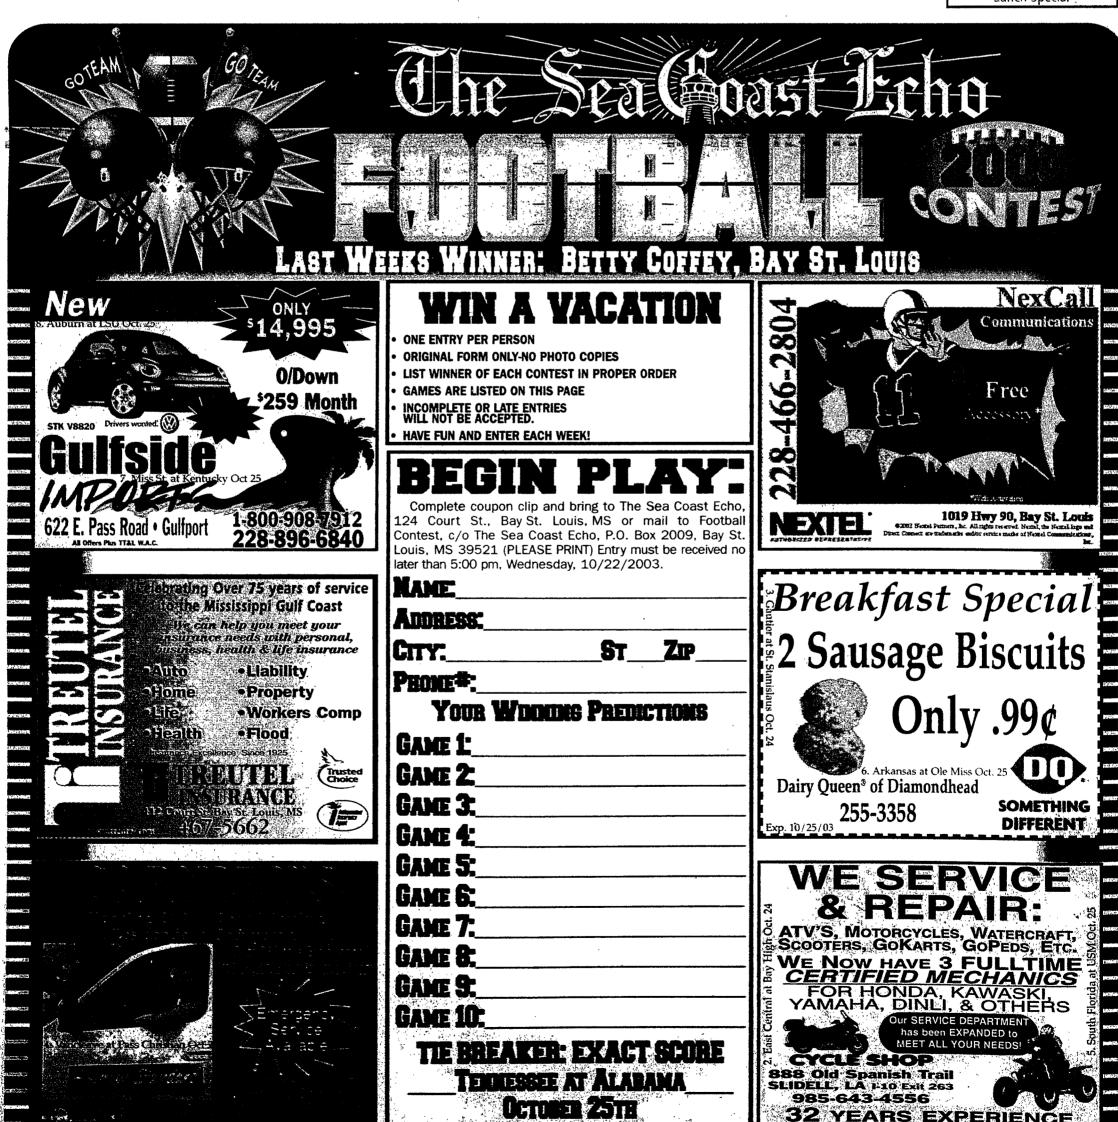

The Offensive Player of the Week for Week #7 is Pass Christian's Tony Henderson who scored a touchdown and rushed for 83 yards on 16 carries in the Pirates' 16-10 overtime win against the Rocks.

The Defensive Player of the Week for Week #7 is Hancock's Gerald Adams who tallied 12 tackles in the 24-6 loss to #15-ranked Northwest Rankin.

Bay & OLA set for Battle of the Bay and state title hopes

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

Staff Writer The Bay High Lady Tigers and the Our Lady Academy Crescents have given volleyball lovers in the area all they can handle during the 2003 season. And fittingly enough, it will be these two teams playing for the chance at the Class I state title in volleyball.

The two teams defeated their second round opponents and advance to a Saturday showdown at Madison Central High School at 10am. The winner of the Bay High/OLA game will be the South State Champions and will take on the North State winner for the state title. The two teams split their regular season matches.

The Bay High Lady Tigers defeated their first round opponent, Mississippi School for the Deaf, on Saturday, October 11, 15-8 and 15-1.

Lindsey Trotter led Bay High with 10 points followed by Tamara and Kendra Reed with 9 points

The Lady Tigers defeated McComb in three games on Tuesday, October 14, 7-15, 15-3, and 15-7.

Bay High head coach Lis Bosarge stated, "McComb was ready to play tonight and we came out not ready to play. We started slow and then found our groove."

Lindsey Trotter led the Lady Tigers with 11 points. Tamara Reed added 9 points and 7 assists. Tori Lansaw, Destiny Flood and Kendra Reed each had 2 kills in the game.

The OLA Crescents disposed of Jackson Wingfield on Saturday, October 11, 15-0 and 15-3 in the first round of the state playoffs. Rachel Cuevas had 9 points and 4 kills to lead OLA. Lauren Renz added 6 points followed by Rachel Cranford, Katherine Guichet and Amada Meyers with 5 points each. Cranford added 13 assists and Kaylee Schmitt had 8 kills.

In their second round game with the Lady Bulldogs of Vancleave on Tuesday, October 14, the Crescents won in two games 15-9 and 15-13.

The Crescents jumped out to 14-5 lead in the first game before holding on to win following a furious rally by Vancleave.

In the second game, OLA want to cut it. The good fell behind 12-4, to Vancleave. sarah loiacano served 8 consecutive points for OLA to tie the game. Vancleave went up 13-12 before OLA got the serve back to tie th egame and win 15-13.

St. Rose Cemetery Clean-up Ministry needs volunteers

BARABINO

The Cemetery Clean up Ministry was formed to maintain the abandoned gravesites of St. Mary's Cemetery.

The graves will be cleaned four times a year, to prevent the over-run of weeds.

These clean ups are not intended to maintain the graveyard. Individuals are still responsible for the maintenance of family and individual plots.

Due to the heavy rainfall and rapid vegetation growth in this area, weeds can quickly make the cemetery unsightly. When graves are un-kept and over run with weeds it takes away from the overall appearance of the graveyard, and discourages others from maintaining their plots. Our initial clean up on Saturday, Oct. 11, and Monday, Oct. 13, was a great improvement in greatly appreciated. the appearance of St. Mary's Cemetery.

The committee is open to everyone in the community. You do not have to be a member of St. Rose Church; you do not have to be Catholic, we just need people, willing to show a little respect for our deceased members of the community: "Gone, but not forgotten."

We are seeking a minimum of 30 dedicated, and committed members, for the Cemetery Clean up Ministry. Members must be able to schedule other responsibilities around these four days of the year, to be an effective member.

The task is large, and with all members present the work will be easier to complete. If you know that you can make this commitment and you are willing to participate, please contact us, your assistance will be

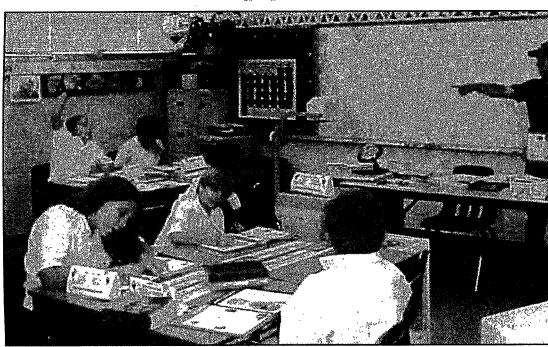

I would like to thank the people who showed up on Saturday, October 11 and Monday, October 13, 2003 for our initial clean up. Special thanks to Mr. Ames Kergosien and his crew, David and Patricia Resor and family for clean up and refreshments, and Terry and Leslie Asher for clean up and coordinating the Bay Catholic Youth workers.

A very special thanks to everyone else who assisted in any way, that I have failed to mention.

The dates for the next three clean ups are: Sat, February 28, 2004, Sat, June 19, 2004 and Sat, Oct. 16, 2004.

To become a member of the Cemetery Clean-up Ministry, please contact: Oscar J. Barabino 210-521baracoll@awesomenet.net, Kergosien 228-467-5402

St. Clare to host trick-or-treat event

Are you looking for a safe children love. place to take your child trick-or-treating? St. Clare Catholic Church and School in Waveland is hosting a trick-or-treating event, which will be the kick off to it's annual fair.

It used to be that parents could take their children trick-or-treating without worrying about safety. Today, however, most parents take their children only to homes of neighbors, friends and relatives, staying away from the homes of strangers. This is why the fair committee at St. Clare Church and School decided to open the fair up to trickor-treating on Halloween night.

"This is an opportunity for our children to see their school in a different light. And it provides a safe, funfilled environment for Halloween, by having the children off the streets." says Mark Cumella, principal of St. Clare School.

Taking children to the St. Clare fair to trick-or-treat, has more to offer than safety. After working all day, parents won't have to cook, eat and run out the door. Instead, they can come out to St. Clare's fair, grab a bite to eat, trick-or-treat and have a fun filled night without the stress. There will be a variety of food at the fair, including hamburgers, hot dogs and pizza, which most

The St. Clare fair will be held on the church grounds. Hours will be Friday, October 31st, 4 - 10 p.m.; Saturday, November 1st, 11 a.m. - 11 p.m.; and Sunday November 2nd, noon - 6 p.m. Admission is free, so mark your calendar! Attention crafters! Time
